Many air carriers, including all European Community air carriers, have waived the Conventions limits for death or bodily injury and the defence that they have taken all necessary measures to avoid the damage for the first 100,000 Special Drawing Rights (as defined in the Convention) of any such claim. In addition, in cases of bodily injury or death, many air carriers will make advance payments to the person entitled to compensation, if required to meet immediate economic needs in proportion to the hardship suffered. Community air carriers make such payments in accordance with Community Law. Other carriers may apply alternate provisions. Aer Arann is not responsible for any illness, injury or disability, including death, attributable to your physical condition or for the aggravation of such condition. If Aer Arann proves that the damage was caused by, or contributed to by, the negligence of an injured or deceased passenger, Aer Arann may be exonerated wholly or partly from its liability in accordance with applicable law.
